Implenia adjusts capacities in urban civil works business – Measures taken to mitigate social impact

Dietlikon, 23 May 2017 – Implenia continuously adjusts its capacities in line with the current market situation. At the beginning of the year, the Group brought together its operational units in the regional business in Switzerland under a single roof. In certain regions, however, long-term success can only be achieved if capacities are adjusted to economic circumstances. These adjustments affect the branches of the Business Unit Implenia Construction Switzerland in Basel, Bern and the south-east Switzerland region. Implenia Construction Switzerland is involved in road and civil works.

“We have overcapacities in the urban civil works sector in the regions concerned. The adjustments will ensure the successful continuation of this business in these regions,” says André Métral, Head of Business Unit Implenia Construction Switzerland. The Group will strive to take these steps in the most socially responsible way possible, with mitigating measures including social plans and early retirement packages.

Implenia is Switzerland's leading construction and construction services company. It also has strong positions in the German, Austrian and Scandinavian infrastructure markets. Established in 2006, Implenia can look back on around 150 years of construction tradition. It brings the expertise of its highly skilled sectoral and regional units together under the roof of a company active throughout Europe. With its integrated business model and specialists operating in all areas of construction, the Group can manage a building project through its entire lifecycle and deliver work that is economical, integrated and customer-centric. The focus is on striking a sustainable balance between financial success and social and environmental responsibility.

Implenia, with its headquarters in Dietlikon near Zurich, currently employs more than 8,200 people around Europe and posted revenue of around CHF 3.3 billion in 2016. The company is listed on the SIX Swiss Exchange (IMPN, CH0023868554). More information can be found at www.implenia.com.
